

Integrated Water Resources Management (IWRM) Projects and Initiatives in the Caribbean

Title: Global Water Partnership-Caribbean (GWP-C) Journalist Network

Organisation: Global Water Partnership-Caribbean (GWP-C)

Aims and Objectives:

The GWP-C Journalist Network provides a system of communications and support that allows journalists to collaborate rather than work as isolated individuals on Integrated Water Resources Management (IWRM) and key related development issues. The GWP-C Journalist Network is geared towards:

- Building the technical understanding and expertise of journalists
- Empowering journalists to write and report on water resources issues
- Creating opportunities for cross and inter-regional linkages with other journalists globally where experiences and lessons learnt can be used for greater knowledge sharing
- Sharing outputs by journalists (articles, case studies) to be used for research and reference
- Providing journalists access to information resources on IWRM and related issues as well as capacity building activities (workshops, seminars, conferences) on IWRM

Duration: Start Year: December 2010 Completion Year: Ongoing

Additional Comments: The Journalist Network is an ongoing initiative of the GWP-C
