OBJECTIVES

- Initiate and establish ownership of our next GWP strategy development process
 - Anchor our strategic reflection in a deeper understanding of our identity today;
 - Consider the key trends that affect the work GWP is doing – political, social, economic, environmental trends, as well as trends in the broader institutional architecture for development; these could be major trends as well as emerging trends (likely to be ‘big’ in a few years)
 - Reflect on our Aspirations: What is the value that we want to create, given where we come from and given where the world is going?
 - Analyze what it would take for us to turn our aspirations into reality: generate strategic adaptation options for GWP, and consider what choices we might have to make.
- Identify topics – based on our aspirations and what it would take to turn them into reality – which we would need to consider further, by doing or commissioning some research, or by testing and piloting related activities.
- Identify individuals who want to contribute more actively – over the coming six months – in research or in testing/piloting innovative approaches or activities.
