

Dr. Richard Kimwaga
Water Resources Engineering Dpt.
University of Dar es Salaam
P.O. Box 35131
Dar es Salaam,
TANZANIA
Cellphone: +255 754 265636
+255 718 527255
Email: rkimwaga2007@yahoo.com

Dr. Richard Kimwaga

Professional Summary

Dr. Richard Kimwaga is a member of the Tanzania Water Partnership (TWP) core team. Dr. Kimwaga is a Senior Lecture at the College of Engineering and Technology - Water Resources Engineering Department, University of Dar es Salaam. He was the Team Leader of the International Water Association (IWA) funded study on assessing human resource gaps and shortages to meet the MDGs in water supply and sanitation sector in Tanzania. Formerly he was a Country Coordinator for the Victoria Research Project Modeling of Non-Point Sources of Pollution around Lake Victoria. Kimwaga has more than 15 years of relevant professional experience in Integrated Water Resources Management and Development, Water Supply, Sanitation, Solid Waste Management and Storm water Management. His experience is based on extensive and intensive field studies in different countries on various fronts in water, environmental management and development including Water Quality, Pollution, Water supply and sanitation, Environmental Impact Assessment (EIA), Social Impact Assessment (SIA) and Environmental engineering. Dr. Kimwaga has extensive experience in managing high profile stakeholder engagement processes, including facilitating of different national and regional courses, workshops and conferences. He is an active member of various professional institutions, networks and associations such as Nile IWRM NET, Curriculum Working Group of the Integrated Sanitation Management Master Project, and Short Training Course Working Group of the Integrated Watershed Management Project.